Hiya, Folks!

Your mail from me kinda fallen off of late? - Don't wonder cause I haven't written but one V-mail letter since I've been here in rest camp. - Think that one was one week ago today - so you can see how the letters haven't been leaving these parts!

Am still in rest camp - about 2 days over my leave about now - Will probably be going back about tomorrow so it won't be long before I'm hitting the old grid again - and this time I'll really be on the home stretch, I think. Our operating officer arrived a couple of days ago for rest camp, himself, and he sanctions our over-stay, so there's no real harm being done.

Yes, you're no idea of the fun and enjoyment we've had this past week - Not too much talk - but everyone is on his own and does what he feels like - I was fortunate enough to meet a flight nurse (a very pretty one too) on about my third day here and never could I have found a better sport to pal around with - It seems so queer to have a feminine companion after all these months of nothing but men - Given a few more months I think perhaps I could be civilized! - She has a game of walking me down so yesterday I decided I'd beat her at her own game! We walked down about 10 miles in all - I was in good luck - I won her down! I more than made up for my loss - Love from Frank
